SHARE Program stresses volunteer work

Earlene Kuck
For just two hours of volunteer service each month, you can participate in the SHARE Program. The concept is to receive food packages in bulk at nearly one-half the normal cost, and is sponsored locally by the Belle Glade American Legion Post #20 and South Bay Growers.

The SHARE Program is an affiliate of SHARE USA which is a division of WORLD SHARE. It is a very organized and structured program that has been in operation in the Tampa area since 1892. This program is sponsored by Tampa United Methodist centers, a multi-service agency supported by Catholic, Jewish and Protestant faith groups.

Basically, at the beginning of each month, the participant goes to the sites and gives $13.50 for each food unit ordered. They are then told about volunteer services and distribution.

For each unit ordered, the participant agrees to do two hours of volunteer work at the SHARE warehouse or on any other community project.

The SHARE staff coordinates purchasing and bagging of units and develops projects for participants.

After volunteer work has been completed, participants will receive a receipt for their hours of service.

Food units are then issued to and picked up by the participants. The cycle then continues.

The SHARE Program is meant to enhance the quality of life in the community served, and to encourage self-help within.

Examples of volunteer time are helping the elderly to purchase groceries or mowing their lawn, helping the SHARE Program with registration, bagging food, answering phones, volunteer work at local hospitals, schools or youth centers. There are also other choices that can be made.

Participation in this program is not related to your income and anyone may take part. Community volunteer services are meant to bring local residents closer. In this case, the participant will also benefit.

Contact the American Legion Post at 996-6444 for more information and to become involved in volunteer work.

Men apprehended following burglary of residence

Neighbor observes burglary and calls police

Tammy Jackson

Members of the Belle Glade City Police Department arrested two men June 22 after they allegedly burglarized a residence on S.W. Second Dr.

According to Belle Glade Police Department reports, the police department received a call from a neighbor of the burglarized residence. The neighbor stated two men had been seen walking around the house.

The caller went on to say they were pulling on windows and they had just entered the screened-in back porch.

A perimeter was immediately set up around the residence.

Police officers observed two males coming out of the residence.

Reports indicate Israel Hester, 25 of Belle Glade, and Clarence Atkins, 33, of Hallandale, were taken into custody.

Hester was booked into the Palm Beach County Jail under $1,000 bond. Atkins was booked into the Palm Beach County Jail under $3,000 bond.

The heat of the day doesn't stop the City of Belle Glade Sanitation Department from doing its job. The sanitation department is responsible for collecting garbage and debris within the city. This sanitation worker is busy collecting roadside debris in a Belle Glade neighborhood.

DUDA restructures celery operation; 200 employees affected

Continuing efforts to improve the quality of DUDA's world famous celery coupled with the crop's shrinking profit margins have prompted a decision to replace mechanical celery harvesting with hand harvesting and field packing at the Belle Glade farm owned by A. Duda & Sons, Inc.

The switch to hand harvesting and field packing, which will take effect at the beginning of next season, will close the Belle Glade celery packinghouse which currently employs approximately 200 workers.

According to F.S. Duda, president and chief operating officer, the company based its decision on a study of the quality and cost differentials between mechanical harvesting and hand harvesting, which is the exclusive method of harvesting at DUDA's Texas and California farms. The study revealed that hand harvesting will significantly increase yields and improve the quality of the packaged celery.

A pioneer in the development of farm field machinery, DUDA has used celery harvesters of its own design and construction for a number of years at the Belle Glade farm which are capable of harvesting thousands of celery stalks per hour. Although the celery is dropped onto a pillow-cushioned conveyor, damage to the outer stalks necessitates stripping and downsizing of the product before it is packed.

According to Belle Glade Farm Manager Ed Hamilton, "It's a real change from the way we've always done things, and I really regret the reshuffling of employees that these changes will bring, but the new environment we find ourselves in doesn't leave us much choice. Quality and price are still the name of the game."

Mr. Hamilton says he is pleased that the company is able to offer employment options to many of the celery packinghouse employees.

To assist the employees, DUDA is offering transfers to field harvesting or other departments on the 24,000-acre farm, as well as retirement and preferential hiring status for job openings as they become available.

"We're sensitive to the impact on our employees and their families," says Israel Baez, DUDA Employee Relations Manager, "and we're working to minimize the number of employees that will be affected. We want to make this work as best we can for everyone."

A. Duda & Sons, Inc. is one of the country's largest growers of vegetables.

Tax Cap petition drive goes over top

With more than 736,000 signatures in hand, the Tax Cap Committee has announced that it has achieved its goal of obtaining enough signatures to put its constitutional amendments returning control of taxes to taxpayers and protecting property rights on the November ballot.

David Biddulph, chairman of the statewide grass roots organization that spearheaded the petition drive, said, "The success of this citizens' campaign sends a clear message from the taxpayers of Florida to their elected officials that he days of 12 percent a year government spending growth are over."

"We have had overwhelming response from voters all over Florida: in small towns and large cities, everywhere our petition gatherers went," Mr. Biddulph said. "Florida's taxpayers have said that they've had enough tax increases to pay for programs that don't work, aren't needed, or that we can't afford."

Mr. Biddulph is a New Smyrna Beach marketing executive who was a key figure in the recent Save Our Homes petition drive approved in the last election which limits property tax increases. He organized the current petition drive which will put on the ballot this November measures which would require voter approval of all new taxes, strong new property rights protection, tighter restrictions on ballot initiatives and clarifying language for petition drive language.

Mr. Biddulph said the petition drive received strong support from every region of the state, but the most impressive was the response of a direct mail campaign which resulted in people sending back cash contributions with their signed petitions. More than 9,000 voters contributed more than $100,000 with average donations of $26 each.

The ballot issues qualified by Tax Cap are: a requirement that all new taxes be submitted to the voters for approval; property owners would be compensated if their property loses value as a result of government action; a requirement that two-thirds of the voters must approve any new tax imposed by constitutional amendment, such as a state personal income tax, modification of the current "single subject" restriction in the Florida Constitution to allow voters to make comprehensive changes in the way tax increase decisions are made. The restriction will remain, except for those constitutional amendments or revisions that limit the power of government to raise revenue.

To qualify to be placed on the general election ballot, a citizen initiative must be signed by 429,431 registered voters statewide. The petitions must be signed by at least eight percent of the voters who voted in the last presidential election in at least 12 of Florida's 23 congressional districts.

Mr. Biddulph said his organization is in the process of pre-qualifying all signatures that have been gathered, checking them against existing voter rolls and marking them with voter identification numbers which will make it easier for elections officials in individual counties to verify the names. The names are then shipped to the counties for final verification.

Sears seeks entrepreneurs to open retail dealer store locally

Sears Merchandise Group recently announced it is seeking entrepreneurs to open a retail dealer store in Belle Glade. The dealer will offer customers appliances, electronics and lawn and garden equipment. There are about 225 of these dealer stores in operation nationwide.

"This new retail format offers customers the merchandise they want, such as our popular Kenmore and Craftsman products and other national brands, while providing a profitable business opportunity for an independent owner and Sears," said Steve Titus, divisional vice president of Sears dealer store program. On average, the retail dealer stores have 5,000 square feet of selling space, and are owned by independent dealers who operate on a commission for merchandise sold.

Under the agreement between Sears and the authorized dealer, Sears stocks the store and provides the signage and cash register. The dealer provides the facility and hires the employees. There is no upfront payment required by Sears to enter into the agreement.

The dealer stores receive support from the Sears retail network, which includes systems and distributions support and Sears national marketing and advertising campaigns. The stores accept SearsCharge, Discover Card, VISA, MasterCard, American Express, as well as personal checks and cash for payment.

Like the Brand Central departments at larger Sears stores, the stores offer major home appliances from nationally-recognized brands such as Kenmore, Whirlpool, Tappan, General Electric and Kitchen Aid. Washers and dryers, refrigerators, chest freezers, ranges, dishwashers, microwave ovens and range hoods are all available. The stores also offer vacuum cleaners from Kenmore, Eureka and Hoover.

In consumer electronics, customers can shop for TVs, VCRs, camcorders and stereo systems from leading manufacturers such as Sony, RCA, Magnavox and Zenith.

Craftsman brand lawn and garden equipment, along with Craftsman bench power tools and portable electric tools are available. Kenmore water heaters, water softeners and gas grills are also sold.

Interested parties are encouraged to call Sears at 1-800-827-1350.

Summer burglaries

"Summer is here; some are packing up to go to work in different areas. Every year this happens, and along with their migration comes a crime wave. It happened last year, the year before and this year. It happens to the business, the homeowner, the renter, the car owner, the truck owner, the working man, the retired, the employed, and the unemployed alike.

Some unidentified group of people go around taking items that they want. The reports say this year is one of the worst with the strikes being reported every where.

The Belle Glade Police Department has not been able to do anything about this (year after year). It is time that we as citizens stand up and put this to a halt. It is going to take everyone's help. Everyone has to watch out to protect each other.

I am pleading with each and every resident and visitor alike to open your eyes, and if you see something suspicious call your local police department, Belle Glade is 996-7251.

If you know who is doing it or may be involved with the thefts and/or buying of stolen property, please call and turn the information over to the authorities; we pay them to investigate, let them. We pay them to check out suspicious things, call them. If you hear or see something strange, don't turn your back; observe, determine and make that phone call. If you can't walk around comes around. If you can't help your neighbor by being alert and making a phone call, then do not cry the blues when your only battery has been stolen and/or your home (car) has been broken into.

If you feel the problem could be solved by the police department, call the chief and let him know what you think. You can also contact city managers, city commissions and county commissioners.

Also, a commentary from Mike Miller, public safety, on this crime wave, the department's current efforts, the department's (hopefully) new strategies (and increased efforts), and how people can help curb this, would be a real help. I would love for The SUN to get his input. Please contact him for a statement.

Editor's Note: See page 5 for remarks.

Visitors afraid

"I'm glad the police department has stopped the teens from hanging in the parking lot at Taco Bell because I've had relatives come into town and they go up there and they're afraid to get out because they're scared they're going to get mugged. And another thing, there aren't drugs only on Fifth St., they are all over Belle Glade."

Destruction

"It's okay for the teens to hang out if they didn't cause so much destruction. They throw eggs and toilet paper. While they are hanging out and having fun, it's all to other people's expense. They harass the people and at Taco Bell. It's unfortunate that the good has to suffer for the bad but when the teens get out of hand there is no other choice." The Belle Glade Police Department is just doing their job."

Editors note: The POLICE NEWS in this newspaper lists arrests, not convictions, unless otherwise stated. Arrested persons who later are found not guilty or have had the charges against them dropped are welcome to let us know. We will confirm the information and print it.

Commentary

Home Rule in my hometown

By Alexa Lutz

Alexa is the daughter of Kenneth and Sonja Lutz of Belle Glade. She won third place in the state for the following essay through the Florida League of Cities.

Welcome to Belle Glade. Driving along State Road 80, nothing but sugar cane surrounds you. Then, just when you start to get hypnotized by the endless green, two lights are visible. As you near them, you realize they are signal lights. These lights are special; not only do they signal directions, they signal the road to Belle Glade.

With approximately 17,000 inhabitants, Belle Glade offers its citizens a friendly small town atmosphere. To ensure the smooth operation of local government, a city commission composed of five representative citizens is elected which in turn elects the mayor.

Assisted by a city manager who implements commission policy and oversees the day-to-day operation of the community, the commission strives to provide services for its citizens on a local level. These services include police and fire protection, recreation, public works, planning and building and community development.

One of the most important services provided by the community is police protection. In a time when there is so much violence in the world, it's a good feeling to live in a comparatively safe rural community. The Belle Glade Police Department's authorized manpower includes 45 sworn police officers, 15 reserve officers, five dispatchers, six full-time civilian employees and five school crossing guards. These people serve the population of 17,084, which increases to more than 30,000 during the harvesting season.

The primary responsibilities of the police department is to respond to calls for service, to coordinate access to emergency medical services, and to provide a lawful environment in which to work and live. Every year the department responds to 65,000 to 70,000 service calls and is equipped with a full service lab, as well as a criminal investigations division.

In addition to general law enforcement activities, the Belle Glade Police Department offers numerous crime prevention programs and supports the Neighborhood Crime Watch, Operation Night Hawk, which is an anti-vehicle theft program, D.A.R.E. (Drug Abuse Resistance Education), Operation Identification, a program that specializes in marking and identifying valuables, residential and commercial security, vacation property checks, and Crime Stoppers. With all these programs in place, most citizens have confidence in the police department and as a result feel that they live in a safe atmosphere.

The fire department is another vital service offered by the community. The City of Belle Glade Fire Rescue Department currently operates from a single centrally located fire station. Staffing consists of 5 sworn State of Florida certified firefighters, one State of Florida certified Fire Inspector and one administrative secretary, all under the direction of the Fire Chief, Tony Tuliano. Staffing is also added to by 15 active volunteer firefighters who respond on a regular basis.

Besides fire suppression activities, the department operates a life support, and a non-transport, medical rescue unit staffed with State of Florida registered emergency medical technicians. Fire department personnel spend many hours training and preparing to answer the community's call for service in their time of need.

The fire department plays an active role in fire prevention through plan review as well as fire safety inspections. Public fire safety education programs are also an

Family thankful to residents of the Glades

We would like to thank the community for the heartfelt thanks to the Glades community from John and Jerry Courson.

Recently, we lost our home and all of our belongings to a fire. A heartbreaking tragedy.

Due to the support and kindness of our friends, family and many people in the community, of whom we have never met, this tragedy seems less painful.

We would like to say thank you for the time and effort that all have put forth for us.

Special thanks to the Belle Glade Fire Department for their efforts in putting out the fire.

To Randy and Bert for lending us a home to live in, and to all the other people that offered us a place to stay.

To the American Red Cross for all the help they provided.

To all the people who planned and put on the benefit barbecue for us, and to all the merchants that donated items for the benefit.

Also, thanks to all the wonderful people who bought tickets to the barbecue and came out to the barbecue.

There are so many people living and working in this area that have helped to get us started again.

We have been blessed to see our community united in an outpouring of kindness and concern.

Thank you,
John and Jerry Courson

Police department providing Commentary programs to handle crime

Crime prevention is everyone's responsibility. Policing in a free society requires voluntary compliance and cooperation with law enforcement. Law enforcement has an absolute responsibility to treat all citizens with dignity and respect. Recognizing that all citizens are guaranteed certain rights under the protection of our constitution, I am committed to protecting these rights. Equally as important, all citizens have an absolute right to be protected and secure from crime. The Belle Glade Police Department is totally committed to this endeavor.

The City of Belle Glade, like many other communities, is experiencing a recurring problem with crime, crime that is driven by drug abuse, unemployment, economic and educational depression. Crime that is promoted by the proliferation of violence on television and in the movies. Crime that results from a criminal justice system that does not protect the victim and does not punish the criminal.

What should we citizens do? We should support the following strategies: 1) Build and staff more prisons; 2) Build and staff more secure juvenile detention facilities; 3) Hire more judges, prosecutors and public defenders; 4) Put more uniformed officers on the street; and, 5) Demand that our legislatures enact legislation that will ensure punishment for committing a crime is sure and swift.

What should you and I do? Learn not to be the victim. Most crimes are crimes of opportunity. Be aggressive in pursuing crime prevention strategies. 1) Think crime prevention for personal safety; and, 2) Think crime prevention for your home and property.

What is the Belle Glade Police Department doing? The Belle Glade Police Department is aggressively pursuing the prevention, detection, apprehension and prosecution of criminal activity. We also offer specialized services in the following areas: 1) Residential Security Survey; 2) Commercial Security Survey; 3) Vacation Property Check; 4) Operation Identification; 5) Bicycle Registration; 6) Selective Foot, Bicycle and Vehicle Patrol; 7) Residential and Commercial Alarm Monitoring; 8) Truancy Interdiction Program; 9) Glades Multi-Agency Narcotics Task Force; 10) CrimeStoppers; 11) Computer Data Base link with the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department, Florida Department of Law Enforcement and Federal Bureau of Investigation; 12) K-9 Patrols; 13) Crime Watch; 14) Community Policing Survey; and, 15) Drug Abuse Resistance Education.

In conclusion, Belle Glade is my hometown. I am proud to live here and proud of our citizens. Every member of the Belle Glade Police Department is giving their best effort to promote peace, tranquility and security, and with the help of our citizens, we will be successful.

I feel safe here and so should you!

Michael Miller
Belle Glade Police Department Chief of Police important objective of the fire service. The department strives to accomplish this function through lectures, specialty classes, tours, and subject material distribution.

In addition, the fire department is innovative in its approach to acquisition of new equipment in this time of economic stress. Recently, it acquired a new combo pumper truck through a public-private partnership. Moreover, through Representative O.R. Minton, excess hose was donated to the community by Minton's home county fire department. "Traditionally, fire departments have always worked together, and this donation represents our continued dedication to public safety," says Tony Tuliano, Belle Glade fire chief.

A common complaint of teenagers in a rural community is that there is nothing to do. However, in speaking with J.D. Patrick, Associate Administrator for the Parks and Recreation Department, I found that there were many different programs for the community. Although the recreation department does not initiate the clubs, sports, and organizations for the city, they provide the recreational facilities. Some of the programs that utilize the facilities are young men's basketball and football, as well as softball and tackle football for older males. Available for all ages and gender are aerobic classes which have both equipment and instructors provided for by the recreation department. Three local parks and "Tot Lots" are also maintained by the recreation department.

The highlight of the recreation department is the 75-acre Belle Glade Marina and Campground located on Terry Island. The campground contains 350 campsites, a covered 200-seat capacity pavilion, a miniature golf course and concession stand. Other amenities include public boat ramps, fish-cleaning stations, and restrooms. Two privately owned fish camps, a privately leased restaurant, and an 18-hole golf course, all make up one of the biggest industries in the Glades.

The City of Belle Glade is also involved with community development programs. There is a homeowners rehabilitation program in which assistance is offered in the form of a "conditional grant" to low-income homeowners, and a "no or low-interest" loan to moderate income homeowners. In fact, if the housing code violations are dangerous, an emergency grant can be provided to the homeowner. Assistance is also available in a rental rehabilitation program, home replacement program, and a farm worker home ownership program. As a last resort, there is also a demolition program in which any condemned house or apartment building will be demolished if the property owner cannot afford to have it done. Community development is a very important service provided to the citizens of Belle Glade - since housing has and continues to be a pressing problem.

Do the citizens of Belle Glade have a direct say in the government? The answer is a resounding "Yes!" The changes made don't always appear in the headlines of the local newspaper, but they do add to the comfort and safety of its citizens. For example, there wouldn't be an aerobics class offered if residents hadn't called the recreation department and requested it. According to the mayor, Steve Weeks, swales would still be standing in yards if citizens hadn't called the city manager and complained about them. The dock at the marina would not have been renovated as quickly if there hadn't been complaints followed by a creative response and action taken by the city in conjunction with a state agency. The city commissioners listen and try to respond to the needs of the community.

If taxpayers would analyze all the services they are getting for their tax dollars, they would realize that they are getting a bargain. Police and fire protection, street repair, and safe water are necessities of life, and in reality we pay very little for such important services.

Home rule is a necessity to solve the problems of a city. Citizens can best determine their own needs and work with the leaders of the community toward satisfying them. Through hardships and struggles, the caring people of this community work together and reach toward the future. Unlike urban areas, we live in the security that we have relatively safe police and fire protection as well as the convenience of well-paved streets and safe drinking water. Belle Glade may seem like a spot in the road to many people, but it's a place I'm proud to call my home.

Final plea to Belle Glade area for host of foreign exchange students

Foreign high school students will be arriving soon into the Belle Glade area for academic semester and year homestays, and the sponsoring organization needs a few more local families.

According to Pacific Intercultural Exchange (PIE) Executive Director John Doty, the students are all between the ages of 15 and 18 years, are English-speaking, have their own spending money, carry accident and health insurance, and are anxious to share their cultural experiences with their new American families. PIE currently has programs to match almost every family's needs, ranging in length from a semester to a full academic year, where the students attend local high schools.

PIE area representatives match students with host families by finding common interests and lifestyles through an informal in-home meeting. Prospective host families are able to review student applications and select the perfect match. As there are no "typical" host families, PIE can fit a student into just about any situation, whether it be a single parent, childless couple, a retired couple or a large family.

Families who host for PIE are also eligible to claim a $50 per month charitable contribution deduction on their itemized tax returns for each month they host a sponsored student.

For the upcoming programs, PIE has students from Spain, Germany, Poland, Russia, Finland, Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, Paraguay, Australia, New Zealand, Croatia and many other countries. PIE has also been invited to participate in a special government-funded program to bring scholarship students from the Newly Independent States of the former Soviet Union to the United States. PIE is a non-profit educational that has sponsored more than 18,000 students from 23 countries since its founding in 1975. The organization is designated by the United States Information Agency and is listed by the Council on Standards for International Educational Travel (CSIET), certifying that the organization complies with the standards set forth in CSIET's Standards for International Travel Programs.

Belle Glade area families interested in learning more about student exchange or arranging for a meeting with a community representative may call PIE, toll-free at 1-800-631-1818. The agency also travels/study program opportunities available for American high school students as well as possibilities for community volunteers to assist and work with area host families, students and schools.

NEWS OF SAFETY

Get In The Swim, Safely

(NAPS)—Getting in the swim of things? A pool or spa can mean hours of enjoyment shared with friends and family members if you use your safety sense, say experts at the National Swimming Pool Safety Committee (NSPSC).

The old adage, "Look before you leap," is as valid as ever. Many recreational swimmers are seriously injured each year as a result of diving into shallow areas of lakes, ponds, streams or swimming pools. The typical victim of a diving accident is a young male, between the ages of 15 and 33.

Here are some safety tips that can help you stay in the swim of things safely, from NSPSC's "Operation Water Watch" national education program to prevent diving accidents:

- Never dive into the shallow end of a pool or into an above-ground pool.
- Do not drink and dive. Statistically, more than 50 percent of all diving accidents involve alcohol.
- Check the depth of the water before you dive.
- Steer your body up when entering the water.

Look before you leap: If you don't know what the conditions are, don't dive.

- Always check the water for submerged objects.
- Learning how to dive properly is as important as learning how to swim. For proper diving instruction, contact your local YMCA, Red Cross or area schools.

GARDENING GUIDE New Spray Oil Pesticide Offers Protection Without Poison

(NAPS) - A growing number of gardeners who know that spraying with chemical poisons can damage more than they bargained for, are cultivating an interest in a new pesticide that offers exceptionally effective protection against insect without putting potentially harmful chemicals into the environment.
The pesticide, SunSpray
Ultra-Fine Year-Round Pesticidal Oil, kills pests primarily through the physical action of "smothering" the insects and their eggs, rather than chemical interaction. In comparison, most chemical pesticides kill pests by "poisoning" an effect caused when the pesticide is absorbed by the organism.
This new pesticide, now available in garden stores, can be used throughout the growing season without damaging plants, and unlike chemicals, no insect is known

A new pesticide, which kills harmful insects by smothering, rather than by chemical poisoning, can be sprayed several times over the entire growing season.

to have built up any resistance to the suffocation action of spray oil. Also, in-studies have shown that it provides some resistance to new infestation.
Unlike previous spray
oils, SunSpray Ultra-Fine Oil can be safely used on landscape plants and trees, as well as in vegetable gardens (right up to harvest) and greenhouses, and offers outstanding protection for house plants.

The universe is true for all of us and different for each of us.
